Check off which of the following apply to you:

- You'd like to have more freedom and flexibility with your client. (While earning a great income.)
- You want your client to get even better, deeper, and longer lasting results.
- You'd like to be more fulfilled, have more fun, and enjoy your work more.
- You dream about waking up excited to begin your day rather than feeling stressed and pressured.
- You sense it's time for a change in your work (But you're not sure what that change could be.)
- You're feeling the limitations of taking insurance.
- You value including your energy techniques and spiritual connection with your clients and patients.

If you checked one or more of these statements, becoming a Spirit Centered Coach could be just what you're looking for!

Why would you want to become a coach?

Coaching is a fast growing profession that allows you to make a powerful impact in people's lives.

Coaching can be integrated within a current career or be a profitable full time or part time business.

- Coaching allows more flexibility and freedom in your work.
- You can be more fulfilled because you have more control over your schedule.
- You can totally move out of the insurance: Coaches typically charge between $100-250 an hour.
- Coaching does not have the restrictions of location-phone, Skype, Face Book-international clientele.
- Easily incorporate energy techniques you use yourself in a system that is unique to you.

Why I Created the Spirit Centered Coaching Certification Program

Coaching is a calling for me not just a career. I had a vision of creating this program for many years. I know there are many people who are seeking spiritual and emotional support. And there are many who have gifts to share with the world-they are just looking for the support to do the work.

My over 30+ years as a credentialed Career Coach, Master Trainer, Certifications in Coaching, Facilitation, Advanced Emotional Freedom Technique, Pranic Healing, Change Management with a Doctorate in Spiritual Psychology and a Masters in Education, has prepared me well to offer this program.

There are a variety of coaching certification programs throughout the world. I created The Spirit Centered Coaching Certification program to fill the gap that teaches the fundamentals of setting up a successful coaching business, integrating spirituality and energy psychology to build on participants' current strengths!
